Graf Zeppelin To Start Return Atlantic Flight Wednesday

HOME TOWN STUFF

Another card has dropped in from a vacationist, this time from R. B. Miller, one of our local automobile vendors. The picture on the reverse side of the card is of the Carlsbad Cavern and Mr. Miller writes: "Sure was cold in here." He then says he is going on to Roswell, Santa Fe and other points in New Mexico and from there will go to Denver, Colo. It must be great to be able to take a summer vacation and go down in caves and up on mountains where it is cool.

The following letter is from A. Subscriber: "Well, we have had chapters in your column pertaining to this, that and the other. How about getting our postmaster to give us one on free mail delivery. If you inquire about anything at the postoffice the answer is always 'local ruling.' Truly Vernon's mail delivery service must be a local ruling, for I can name numbers of cities no larger than Vernon that have free delivery without having to have concrete walks for the carriers to tread upon. I am in dead earnest about this thing and see no reason why, if Vernon poses as a city, calls herself a city, with a first class postoffice, etc., it is has free delivery in only a few choice spots. Of course, I realize many citizens are not concerned about this matter, since they prefer to get their mail at the office, but there are hundreds of people living comparatively close in who are anxious to have this service, and so just now, let's have a few legitimate reasons why Vernon is unable to have what other cities her size have. Let's get behind this thing and have what is coming to us. Yours for free mail delivery."

The extension of free mail delivery service is something to be generally desired. The postmaster has been working with the Chamber of Commerce and other local business men's organizations trying to get an extension of the service. Nobody is trying to keep back this enterprise. It would mean greater convenience to the people, provide employment for additional carriers and greatly relieve the congested condition inside the postoffice. So if the writer of the foregoing letter will furnish the names of a few of the "numbers" of cities where free mail delivery is extended without sidewalks, the postmaster and Chamber of Commerce officials will find out how it is done. It won't be necessary to have any campaign or get behind anybody. If the writer of the letter will furnish facts that seem to be in his possession. Everybody wants extension of free mail delivery. H. T. wishes, for instance, that he could get mail delivered at the Nabers Street boarding house. It would save a lot of worry. Women are so sensitive about letters they sometimes get mad when a busy business man carries one around in his pocket a week or two and forgets to throw it away before he has the wife send his suit to the tailor. Free delivery of mail would save lots of arguments.

A friend found in the wrong part of Texas, Kennedy, Karnes County, to be a little more definite, writes that he observes Andy Bourland has been given a number of unusual recognitions in the recent past referring specifically to the chairmanship of the committee which met in Austin the other day to study Texas highway matters. This friend wonders why. He has met Mr. Bourland and has seen his pictures in the paper and says he is certain Mr. Bourland must have some ability, because he couldn't get very far on his looks. (For the information of Mrs. Bourland, H. T. wishes it clearly understood that the statement about Andy's looks was made by the South Texas friend and not by the writer of this column).

There are getting to be so many candidates for Governor that the av-

AIRSHIP SAFE IN PORT AFTER THIRD CROSSING

Big Air Liner Clips Sixteen Hours Off Time Required for Its Westward Crossing Last Year in Making Voyage in 95 Hours This Time.

Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 5.—(P)—The German dirigible Graf Zeppelin was safe in port today after its third crossing of the Atlantic and day after tomorrow it will start back for Germany, the first leg of a journey around the world.

Graf Zeppelin, largest of airships, left Friedrichshafen at 9:29 E. S. T. Wednesday night and was pulled to the ground here at 8:43 last night after 95 hours and 19 minutes in the air as against 111 hours for the westward crossing last year, although it was not all favorable weather this time.

"There was every kind of weather," Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the ship, said on landing. "It was a very interesting flight. We had no snow, and no hail, but there was a storm cloud at the start and strong head winds for the last 14 hours."

"We had a very enjoyable time," he told reporters. "At night we danced and sang and drank wine."

There were other amusements, too. Passengers told of a bridge tournament and recounted with laughter how they had "kidded themselves in face of the rule against smoking by carrying porcelain cigarettes which they 'lit' with electric flashlights."

The eighteen passengers, including two women, showed no signs of weariness and said they had enjoyed perfect comfort. Soon after they had been passed by customs and immigration agents they left for New York in a special train.

The Graf could have landed a couple of hours sooner but for a gusty wind of about 40-mile velocity. The dirigible first floated over the field here just at sunset amidst prolonged cheers from the crowd at the field, estimated at 100,000. The Graf dipped for a landing but on radio advice from the field rose and turned its shining blunt nose toward New York, which it circled before returning for a night landing.

After the passengers had been discharged the great Zeppelin was left swinging in the starlight at the station's stub mast and with one-third of the crew of two score aboard.

At midnight the wind had died to a brisk breeze and the dirigible was walked to the hangar where it was snugly berthed beside its little sister, the navy dirigible Los Angeles, and two baby airships that cuddled under the Los Angeles' flanks.

Immediate preparations were made to start refueling the Graf and replenishing her supply of nitrogen, so that she might leave on her return journey to Friedrichshafen Wednesday night. From there the ship will fly to Tokyo, thence to the west coast of the United States, and so back to Lakehurst. This girdle of the globe completed, the ship will fly back to its home port across the Atlantic, bringing its total Atlantic crossings to five.

GIL TO DETAIL PROGRESS OF MEXICO IN HIS REIGN

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—(P)—President Portes Gil will summarize the achievements of his administration in a message to Congress at the opening of the regular session Sept. 1, five months prior to the date on which the provisional chief executive is to turn over the reins of government to his successor, to be chosen in the National elections Nov. 17.

In his message the youthful president, now in his early thirties, will lay stress on several of the accomplishments of his nine months old administration, which has been marked by outstanding constructive endeavors as well as one of the most turbulent periods in recent Mexican history.

He will embody in his message the official report of General Plutarco Elias Calles on the campaign against the Escobar rebels in March and April of this year, giving his predecessor in office the lion's share of the credit for the rapid defeat of that movement. The report will give official figures on the casualties and financial losses sustained during the rebellion and reveal other aspects of the revolution as yet unpublished.

Going into another phase of his government's activity, the President will deal with the settlement of the three year church-state controversy, announced June 21 in simultaneous statements by the head of the government and Archbishop Leonido Ruiz y Flores, papal delegate to Mexico. He will lay stress on the pacification of the country as a result of this settlement, which brought about the end of guerrilla warfare waged by Cristero bands over a period of some 35 months, and will set forth that the country is at peace, ready to devote itself to the gigantic task of reconstruction.

Among other accomplishments of his administration, the President will refer to the cession of the government over the national university, which was made an autonomous institution under joint student-teacher management by Presidential decree a few weeks ago.

STUDY TO BE MADE OF LAST WAR PROBLEM

Conference on Application of Young Reparations Agreement To Open at Hague Tomorrow — Evacuation of Rhineland To Be Asked.

The Hague, Aug. 5.—(P)—Representatives of six governments gathered here today prepared to inaugurate tomorrow a conference which may write a closing chapter to much of the post-war financing negotiations. The conference is that which signing of the Young reparations agreement on June 7 at Paris made necessary. That four months long conference evolved a plan for liquidation of Germany's bill for the World War, but left a future conference—that which begins here tomorrow—on its application.

The problems in application involve political considerations the Young committee of financial experts considered it had neither mandate to meet nor could attempt to meet without endangering the work for which it did have a mandate.

Uppermost among the problems likely to come before the conference is evacuation of the Rhineland. Germany at last is in a position to demand a modification of the military control which the allied countries imposed in the years after the armistice. France proposes to substitute a kind of "invisible control" which is nearly as hateful to Berlin as actual occupation. The question may be fought out and brought to tentative settlement here within the next two weeks.

Austin, Aug. 5.—(P)—Representative A. H. King of Throckmorton today authorized announcement of his candidacy for Commissioner of Agriculture subject to the Democratic primaries of 1930.

George B. Terrell, present Commissioner, announced several days ago he would not be a candidate for reelection.

He served with the American Expeditionary Forces in France and is a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

AMERICANS WOULD HONOR GERMANY'S WAR DEAD

Berlin, Aug. 5.—(P)—Representatives of the American veterans of foreign wars today sought in vain for the tomb of the German unknown soldier with the purpose of being the first Americans since the World War to pay tribute to the German war dead.

Berlin is, however, probably the only European capital without a monument to the "unknown soldier" and the Americans laid their wreath on a statue to Frederick the Great.

MAY TEST NEW GAS TAX LAW

FORT WORTH MANAGER IS CONTEMPLATING LITIGATION

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 5.—(P)—Possibility that the city of Fort Worth would present a test case in connection with the new four-cent state gasoline tax law arose today with the announcement by City Manager Carr that the city council might be asked to approve such a move.

The city has objected to paying the tax on gasoline used by the municipality. It holds that the state has no right to tax a city and that the tax, as applied to municipal gasoline, is unconstitutional.

It is tentatively planned to purchase a quantity of gasoline in Oklahoma. This, it was pointed out, would cause the state to file suit for collection of the tax if it expected to collect the money.

Present supply of municipal gasoline is sufficiently large to make unnecessary any additional purchase until early in September, it was said. The city manager estimated that the tax here on municipally used gasoline would approximate $15,000 a year.

FIVE MAJOR FOREST FIRES IN WISCONSIN CONTROLLED

Grandon, Wis., Aug. 5.—(P)—Five major forest fires, which raged in Oconto and Forest counties last week, were under control today. In their place, however, had sprung up a series of new and smaller fires, a few of which were characterized as "very dangerous." The new conflagrations are in the vicinity of silver lakes and along Peshtigo River. Those in the latter section are the most serious since they have hundreds of acres of dry slashings, remnants of logging operations, to feed on should they jump the lines of trenches and sand thrown up by the fire fighters.

FIRE IS FATAL TO THREE IN KANSAS CITY

Explosion Occurs as Firemen Drag Hose Into Burning Drug Store, Taking Lives of Trio — Ten Persons Injured in Conflagration.

Kansas City, Aug. 5.—(P)—Three firemen were killed and ten persons injured here today by falling walls of a burning drug store in a residential district.

The firemen were killed when an explosion occurred as a hose was being dragged into the structure. Phil Hahn, a nearby resident who discovered the fire, said the floor of the store appeared saturated with oil.

The dead firemen were Frank Loner, Roy Rutherford and John Moore. Captain Emmett Fitzgerald, at the nozzle of the hose, was dragged to safety by his comrades after he was caught and imprisoned by falling timbers.

Those injured, none believed seriously, were firemen and persons watching the blaze at Sixty-Ninth Street and Prospect Avenue.

An explosion was believed to have started the fire. The building was destroyed.

CONFESSION BY SNOOK RAPPED

DEFENSE SAYS ADMISSION OF GUILT WAS MADE UNDER DURESS

Courtroom, Columbus, O., Aug. 5.—(P)—The defense in the murder trial of James H. Snook launched its attack today on his confession last June 29 that he killed Theora Hix, 24-year-old Ohio State co-ed.

The defense move came when the State put W. C. Howells, Cleveland Plaindealer reporter, on the stand to testify to an interview with the ousted professor the night after he confessed.

Immediately E. O. Ricketts of defense counsel was on his feet protesting against the admission of any testimony relating to the admissions made by Dr. Snook on the grounds that they were obtained under duress.

"The confession was not voluntary," he said. "The party (meaning those at the interview) was organized by the prosecutor because he was afraid of the validity of the confession. Dr. Snook was acting on advice volunteered by those present. He was denied counsel and the effect of the confession was misrepresented to him."

PENSIONS WILL BE PRORATED

FUND IS INSUFFICIENT TO PAY ALL LISTED ON ELIGIBLE ROLL

Austin, Aug. 5.—(P)—The fund to pay Confederate veterans pensions must be prorated among those given preference in sharing in it if it is insufficient to provide $25 monthly to the veterans and their widows, W. D. Lawrence, assistant attorney general, held today.

The opinion was given to Comptroller S. H. Terrell, who asked if he should issue warrants for the maximum amount allowed under the law or whether the fund should be prorated so as not to create a deficiency. Terrell said the fund was not even sufficient to pay the allotment to all given those in the preferred class.

He said there would be available in the pension fund for the quarter ending August 31 the sum of $551,747, and with $8,000 pensions on the roll entitled to receive $25 monthly under a law recently enacted by the Legislature, this amount would be "insufficient to pay them in full."

The law gives preference to widows of veterans 75 years old or over.

THIRTEEN MAKE ESCAPE DURING NIGHT REVOLT

Many Inmates of Institution Join in Outbreak When Crude Rams Are Used To Assault Walls and Doors—Ringleaders Reported Held.

Los Angeles, Aug. 5.—(P)—A riot of inmates of the Spadra State Narcotic hospital near here today resulted in the escape of thirteen men. The outbreak was quelled only after authorities reinforced by a squad of deputy sheriffs threatened the mob with saved off shot guns.

The inmates used improved rams to smash doors and knock bars and wire gratings from windows. Three men were held as being part of the band of ringleaders. They were Charles E. Rivers, 42; William Graham, 60; and Bobby Hall, 38.

No one was hurt in the struggling and order was restored when authorities advanced with shotguns and tear gas bombs and warned the inmates they would attack if the rioters refused to surrender.

Reports from the hospital said several scores of men figured in the outbreak and that it began about midnight, apparently at a given signal.

Groups of inmates manned clumsily constructed rams and rushed doors, breaking them down. Others used similar battering pieces on protected windows.

CHRISTIAN-PRESBYTERIAN PLAY-OFF STARTS TODAY

CLUBS WILL MEET IN THREE GAMES TO DECIDE OPPONENTS FOR BAPTISTS IN TITLE PLAY

The Presbyterians and Christians begin a three-game semi-final series this afternoon to determine the winner of the second half of the Vernon Sunday School League season, as the scheduled final playoff series between the winners of each half is moved over the calendar one week. The Christians tied with the Presbyterians for first place when they defeated the Baptists last Friday afternoon in a close game that resulted in a 6 to 5 score.

The Methodists forfeited their last game to the Presbyterians, thus giving the latter an easy road to the semi-finals. Besides this game, which was to have been the last scheduled game of the season, all of the league games were played.

Bert Williams will probably draw the hurling assignment in today's game for the Presbyterians. The youth has been leading in the business of pitching during the latter half of the season. He will be opposed by Dalmasso or Wilkins for the Christians.

The probable lineup for the Presbyterians this afternoon is as follows: Baird, catcher; Blanton, short stop; Castleberry, left field; Bob Williams, third base; L. Williams, second base; Bowman, right field; Lisman, center field; Bourland, first base; Bert Williams pitcher.

FARGO TAKES TRUSCOTT TO A 9 TO 1 DEFEAT SUNDAY

The Fargo Community Baseball Club found the offerings of two Truscott hurlers easy to handle Sunday afternoon on the Truscott field and took the game, 9 to 1. The game was called in the seventh frame when excitement among the fans developed into an argument.

Dunson tossed the entire route for the Fargo club and was aided by good fielding. The game was put on ice early in the game when A. Myers picked out a long three-base hit and scored on an error by Adair. A return game is scheduled next Sunday afternoon on the Fargo diamond.

Fargo turned 17 hits into nine runs and was charged with two errors. Majors received the offerings of Dunson. Bogue and Machale pitched for Truscott and Eubanks was the catcher. Truscott was credited with one run, four hits and charged with four errors.

Wichita Ranch Owner's Wife Gives Statement

"I Suffered From Acute Indigestion But Since Taking Orgatone, I Am Entirely Relieved," She Says.

"It's the truth, before I had taken one bottle of Orgatone, I began to notice a big change in my condition, and was feeling much better," said Mrs. W. M. Coleman, of 3009 Tenth St., Wichita Falls, Texas, wife of a well known ranch owner.

"I have suffered from acute indigestion for about five years, and just couldn't get hold of a medicine that would relieve this trouble. I had gas that formed on my stomach after every meal, and I was very bilious and had severe nervous spells, and at times, couldn't rest well at nights. I got so I just didn't feel like eating anything for fear that I would suffer afterwards, and had to be very careful of what I did manage to force down."

"Orgatone was advertised so highly and so I decided to give it a trial. I haven't had a spell of indigestion since I began taking it. I eat anything now I want, and am not bothered in the least. I'm not bilious or do not have that gaseous condition, and am feeling better in every way. Orgatone has certainly done me a world of good and I am glad to give this statement."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific bile preparation and is sold in Vernon exclusively by the Vernon Drug Store, who are direct laboratory agents.

BUFFS SQUEEZE OUT VICTORY

SPUDS SHADE BRUINS IN FINAL CONTEST OF SERIES

(By The Associated Press)

Old-timers and some moderns who are prone to mourn the passing of "inside" baseball and its supplanting by the rough-and-ready slugging game would have derived a thrill from the final game of the Houston-Shreveport series yesterday in the Louisiana city.

The Buffs finally squeezed out with a 4 to 2 verdict after ten torrid innings, giving the down-staters the big end of the series, but the manner in which Gene Bailey's comparatively light hitting club went about scoring the deciding tallies was the thing.

Pepper Martin, the league's premier speedster, singled to start the ball rolling. Then Roy Moore drew a stroll. After that the pair proceeded to steal three sacks in such a hurry that Pitcher Thompson fell easy prey to another single that completed his downfall. Martin swiped three sacks during the afternoon.

Two out of three from the Sports enabled the Bruins to stay on the heels of the Wichita Falls Spuders, who shaded the Waco Cubs, 6 to 5, in their closer.

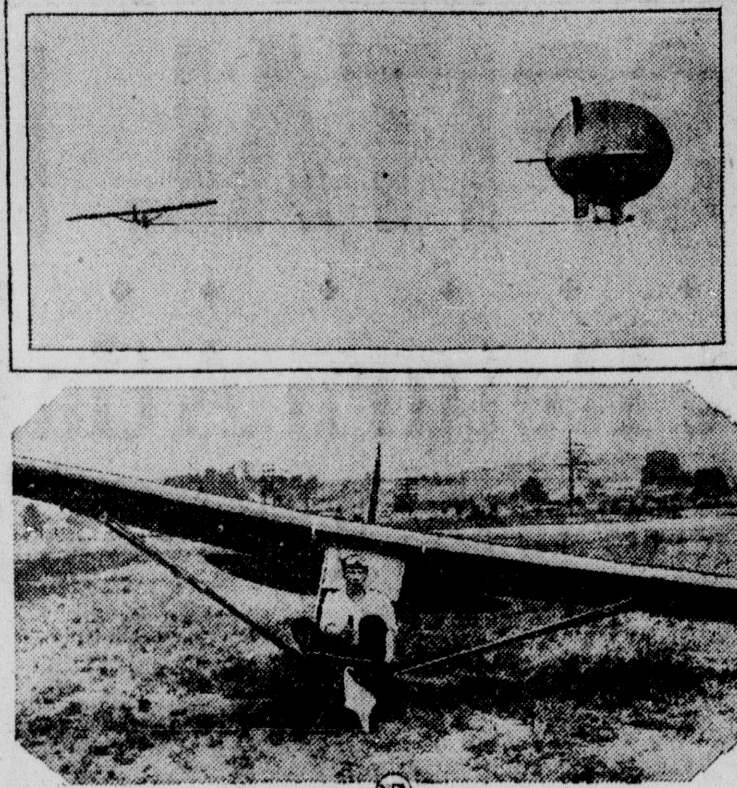

The San Antonio Indians dropped their eleventh in a row when L. Stoner held them to four hits and downed them, 3 to 2, in the Fort Worth final.

After winning two straight from Dallas, Beaumont wilted before Whitely Glazner's curves in the last game and went down, 8 to 1.

Intersectional strife for the last three days, was a different story from the preceding series in the north. The southern outfits displayed more potency, winning three out of the four series. But for San Antonio's rout at Fort Worth the north countrymen would have been made to look very poorly.

Today's new deal finds Beaumont at Wichita Falls, Waco at Dallas, San Antonio at Shreveport, and Houston at Fort Worth.

Chocolate Kid To Box for Soldiers Against Lorenzo

New York, Aug. 5.—(P)—Gratitude in a prize fighter has come to be such a rare trait that the case of Kid Chocolate is almost too good to be true.

A little more than a year ago the flashing Cuban "kidd" one of the cleverest bits of fighting machinery the modern ring has produced, drifted into New York with his manager broke and in need of immediate action. They visited every fight club without even landing a preliminary match.

Discouraged, the tall negro boy went out to the soldiers' camp at Mitchel Field where once a week the lesser lights of the leather tossing industry battle for coffee and cake money at a tiny fight club and got his first chance there.

From the first moment Chocolate lifted his hands in action, he was a sensation. The Cuban youngster, only 19 years old, is a perfect boxer with the technique of the old masters, a stiff puncher with either hand and an engaging ring personality. Within a few weeks every New York promoter wanted his services.

Within the year Chocolate bounded up the flistic trail through the bantam and featherweight divisions until his night's wages around $15,000.

But Chocolate has never forgotten the day when only the doors of the Mitchel Field club were open to him. He promised to come back whenever the match-maker there wanted him. This week he will keep his promise. For a few hundred dollars he will box Tommy Lorenzo ten rounds for the soldiers Wednesday night.

Week-End Results in Major League Baseball Contests All in Favor of Leading Contestant in Each Group

(By the Associated Press)

The week-end fighting along the major league front was all in favor of the two leading teams.

With the Pirates rained out on Saturday and idle yesterday, the Cubs turned back the Brooklyn Robins in two games and stretched the Chicago lead to six and one-half games. The Mackmen played a bruising 8 to 8 tie with the Browns Saturday and took their ease yesterday while the Yanks were dividing a pair with the industrious Indians. This left the margin of the Mackmen at eleven and one-half games, just where it was 48 hours ago, but with the important difference that one game of the lead was transferred from the relatively non-essential won column to the vital line of figures detailing games Bruins. Clark succumbed by 6 to 4 games more than the flying Macks, who are moving at a gait which might possibly level that 23-year-old record of 116 games won by the Cubs of Frank Chance.

Some 55,000 turned out on the Sabbath to see the Yankees fend off their current jinx team, the Cleveland Indians. The champions hit hard behind old Tom Zachary in the opener to win 12 to 0, but a general pitching blow-up in the second class saw the Indians score by 14 to 6.

Ed Morris held the recumbent White Sox to two small hits to win for Boston by 8 to 0. The Detroit Tigers closed out the American League program by winning a rough double-header from the Senators at Washington 10 to 5 and 13 to 11.

The mad dash of the Cubs continued to expose a left-hander, William Watson Clark, to the fire of the Bruins. Clark succumbed by 6 to 4 when Charlie Grimm, the only left-handed swinger on the McCarthy club, connected for a single with men on second and third in the seventh.

St. Louis blanked the Boston Braves by a score of 5 to 0.

Jakie May subjugated the hard-swinging Phillies to win by 7 to 1 at Cincinnati in the remaining National League contest.

PHILLIPS TEAM DEFEATS FAIR & MCGAHA NINE

The Phillips Petroleum Company team of Rock Crossing continued its string of victories by defeating the strong Fair & McGaha nine on the latter's diamond yesterday by an 11 to 4 count. The game was exciting throughout, with both teams showing good form.

The work of Walter Sand, Phillips short stop, and Mann, Phillips center fielder, were the highlights of the game. Sands was active in his position, and was a threat at the bat. Some sensational catches by Mann thrilled the crowd of spectators.

BISHOP CANNON FILES ANSWER TO NUMEROUS ATTACKS

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—The answer of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to various charges published against him recently was made available to newspapers today in a 15,000-word statement.

He went at length into the charges of profiting in flour during the war, criticisms of his stock market transactions, the charge he used funds of the board of temperance and social service of his church to further the election of President Hoover through organization of the anti-Smith Democrats of Virginia and the contention he has improperly used his church office for political purposes.

He restated his denials of wrongdoing in every instance, reiterated opposition to former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic candidate for president, Chairman John J. Raskob of the Democratic National Committee, and Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, and declared:

"Either Raskobism must be discarded and repudiated or dry Southern Democrats are of necessity permanently out of the party."
Charging efforts at "political intimidation" against him, he asked:
"Is not this a concerted desperate effort of Raskobism to destroy my influence with the people of Virginia in the approaching election? Will the people of Virginia approve or disapprove of these attacks upon my reputation and influence by these political assassins?"

The answer is described as a "statement by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., concerning the various publications which have been made concerning him by 'wet' and Roman Catholic and other newspapers, throughout the country," and its extent is explained with the assertion:

"No article of ordinary length could answer the continuous sweeping slanderous attacks made, not only upon specific acts, but upon a manner of life and a record extending over forty years."

It begins with a series of quotations from denominational and secular newspapers, and goes on to say that "since June 23, 1928, when I signed the call for the southern Democratic friends of prohibition to meet in Asheville, North Carolina, on July 19th, to take steps to defeat the wet Tammany candidate, Alfred E. Smith, I have been the subject of constant attack by the 'wet' secular and Roman Catholic press."

Of the food profiteering charge, the Bishop says, "of course, this had no bearing whatever upon the betrayal of the Democratic party on the prohibition question by Alfred E. Smith, but slander is one of the favorite weapons of unprincipled politicians."

He declares he tried "vainly to find someone who had publicly sponsored the charge," and then cites the statement of the trustees of the Blackstone (Va.) College for girls saying they were "fully acquainted with the facts" concerning his purchase of flour in 1917 while president of the institution to safeguard its food budget for the approaching term.

The attempt at "political intimidation" on the basis of his stock market transactions, he declared, was begun during the 1928 campaign but was discontinued for seven months, until his activities in the current Virginia campaign began.

"I am being continually attacked as using my episcopal office for purely political purposes," he said. "This statement is flatly false. I have never desired, nor have I ever had political control of Virginia. I have, as the representative of the moral forces of the state, insisted upon the passage of certain legislation, and in the selection of officers who favor and maintain that legisla-

DISAPPEARANCE OF DRY OFFICER IS INVESTIGATED

Detroit, Aug. 5.—(P)—Federal authorities today were investigating the disappearance of George Sandland, Federal prohibition agent, missing since last Friday night when fishermen said they saw him put out into the Detroit River with a man and woman in a recently seized speedboat.

Walter S. Petty, acting collector of customs, said today that Sandland and a customs border patrolman had seized the boat and arrested the man and woman for violation of navigation laws. According to Petty, Sandland remained to guard the craft while the customs officer went to report the seizure. When the officer returned the boat, Sandland and the man and woman were gone.

LAW OBSERVANCE AND VISITING

A wealthy Chicago banker faces comparatively serious charges in Spain as a result of theft of a valuable plaque, which the American admits having taken from the famous escorial palace. The banker characterizes the taking of the plaque as a joke, but news dispatches fail to state just how far the joke was to go, and make no mention of any intention to return the valuable article had the attempt to make away with it been successful.

The incident is typical of an American trait. The visitor is always ready to take liberties that he would not expect to be granted him, no matter where he is visiting in an adjoining community or in a foreign land. Even the most law-abiding and conscientious person seems to forget legal restraints to a certain extent when touring, especially if in company with a crowd.

This trait is reflected in the hotel guest's tendency to take along a souvenir of his visit in the form of some article, and to infringe upon the rights of others more readily than he would at home. It is to be found at scenic places, where visitors continue to make an effort to carry home some souvenir even though they are impressed with the fact that to permit all visitors to do so would soon rob the place of many of its wonders.

Somewhat even the most law-abiding seem to find a means of excusing themselves for such actions, and when apprehended are inclined to characterize it as a joke, a negligible matter at the most, rather than an actual theft.

As a people, we do not seem to appreciate the fact that law observance is a matter of character, not of inclination or geography. The popular theory that one can break the law while visiting, be it in a neighboring community or foreign land, and still be guiltless of any offense, is false. Theft is theft, whether at home or abroad.

UNIMPRESSIVE EXCUSES

The average citizen must be impressed with the number of accidental slayings involving prohibition agents. In recent weeks three persons have been slain by the accidental discharge of dry officers' guns during a raid, and it is worth noting that in each instance the person killed was one suspected of liquor law violations.

Of course it is easy to appreciate the fact that a gun can accidentally be discharged during the excitement that naturally must attend a liquor raid, but when these accidental discharges occur so frequently and each time the bullet strikes some vital spot in the suspect's body the public must begin to wonder if something is not wrong. At least it looks as if weapons and authority have been given to irresponsible persons.

The claim that a gun was accidentally discharged, causing the death of a person, is not very impressive. It frankly admits that there was no excuse for the slaying, that the suspect made no movement that could give the slayer grounds for pleading self-defense. When it is claimed that a shot was accidental, it is a tacit admission that the slain man made no effort to defy the law, since the self defense plea has always been a very effectual one for officers charged with killing.

Of course no American, no matter how strong a supporter of the prohibition law, can endorse indiscriminate slaying of suspects by Federal raiders. Anyone must admit that it is possible for the raiders to be mistaken in their suspicions. Certainly it is only right that the suspect should be given an opportunity to offer a defense in a court of law and then, if proven guilty, be punished as the law allows, not shot down without a chance. His crime against society does not warrant such drastic action.

It seems that one of the most effective methods of creating sentiment against the prohibition enforcement system is to kill in the enforcement of the law, especially when no other excuse can be given for the death than that it is an accident. These explanations do not restore life which they admit there was no reason for taking.

Chinese Sections All Over United States Tense Following Blazing of Tong Guns in Chicago on Sunday

Chicago, Aug. 5.—(P)—Tong guns blazed in Chicago yesterday and the echo, heard in Chinese sections all over the United States, brought out apprehensive police details attempting to stop spread of the dread feud. Chicago's Chinatown was thrown into confusion when a Hip Sing tongman, Yee Sun, was shot and killed in a crowded street and again last night when Kar Leong Wong was shot and probably fatally wounded. Police were informed Wong was a member of the On Leong Tong and were working on the theory his shooting was in retaliation for the slaying of Sun.

The mysterious "grapevine telegraph" through which tong members were informed of happenings in other cities evidently was functioning well for police in other cities reported streets in Chinatowns deserted and tense and uneasy spirits prevailing.

Two shots were fired at Chinese in Boston yesterday, and although the trouble was believed to have been the result of a gambling quarrel, scores of plainclothesmen were stationed in the Chinese section and sightings kept out.

Joe Tuck, member of the On Leong, was arrested upon the identification of a Hip singer, Ding Wing, who said he saw the Yee shooting, but police doubted he was the actual slayer.

Nine Chinese were held by police today in connection with the Wong shooting.

Soon after the disturbances started, Frank Moy, president of the On Leong organization, and Lee Loy, acting head of the Hip Sings, appeared at the detective bureau and asked help in preventing further trouble. At their own requests were both given detective escorts.

Both tong leaders admitted the war was on and said they feared a repetition of the bitter warfare that claimed more than 70 lives in the nationwide tong war of 1925.

PRIMITIVE BAPTISTS CLOSE THREE-DAY SESSION HERE

The Unity Association of Primitive Baptists closed a three-day convention here Sunday at noon with the 11 o'clock service at the tabernacle in Castlebury Park. Elder R. V. Sarrrels of Anson, moderator of the association, closed the convention and told of the plans for the 1930 convention to be held in Anson.

The Red River Church of Vernon, of which Elder A. B. Hughes of Vernon is pastor, was host to the 500 delegates attending the convention. The program was opened with a service Thursday night and the delegates began arriving early Friday morning. The entire visiting delegation camped in Castlebury Park near the tabernacle. The visitors were the guests of the Red River church.

CHILLICOTHE FEED CROP REPORTED ALMOST MADE

Chillicothe, Aug. 5.—The feed crop in the territory surrounding Chillicothe is practically made, and from present indications will be a bumper crop. Farmers will not be faced with the problem of buying feed next year, as has been the case this season. Not only will they have plenty for home use but there will be plenty to ship to other localities where feed is short. Maize, kafir and feterita are the principal feeds produced here. Corn and Sudan grass are also thriving since the recent rains.

CURTAINMENT OF NAVAL PROGRAM IS CRITICISED

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—Evidence continues to pile up in congressional circles that the approaching end of the summer recess of the Senate will mark the beginning of a vigorous attack on President Hoover's action suspending construction of three ships of the fifteen-cruiser program which were to have been laid down this fall. The President's decision, announced after similar action had been taken by Prime Minister MacDonald, has again been brought under severe senatorial criticism in a statement by Senator Swanson of Virginia, ranking Democrat of the naval affairs committee, showing that he shares the opposition to the President's course expressed in more or less milder language by Chairman Hale of the Senate and Chairman Britten of the House naval committees.

WORLD MOTOR RATIO SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

Washington (P)—The rapidity with which the world is being motorized is emphasized by A. W. Chiles, acting chief of the automotive division of the department of commerce. He cites figures showing the world ratio of persons to motor cars has dropped in the last three years from 71 to 1 to 61 to 1.

The United States ratio of 4.87 persons to each automobile accounts for the high world average, which would be 247 to 1 if this country were not taken into consideration. Arabia has the fewest automobiles in relation to population. In one Arabian state, Asir, there are 75,000 persons to every automobile.

AIR MAIL SYSTEM BEING PLANNED BY CHINESE

Shanghai (P)—The Chinese government is planning a comprehensive air mail system to link all sections of the country, according to the Chinese Economic Bulletin.

A national aviation corporation, capitalized at $10,000,000, has been organized by the government to carry on air mail service and to promote civil aeronautics.

The corporation plans to carry passengers and freight in addition to air mail. Routes from Nanking to Shanghai and from Nanking to Hankow are to be put into operation shortly.

FRUIT GROWERS TO TALK MEANS OF FIGHTING FLY

Laredo, Texas, Aug. 5.—(P)—Representatives from a number of fruit growing sections of South Texas were expected to attend a meeting here tonight for discussion of methods to prevent invasion of this section by the Mediterranean fruit fly and the Mexican orange worm.

Congressman John Garner and George B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture, were to address the gathering. It was expected that the meeting would seek to have the Federal Government appropriate $1,000,000 to combat the pests.

Finding a Fortune in Peanuts

*This Is Another Case
To Show What a Woman
Can Do to Win Success
When Suddenly Faced
With the Necessity
Of Making Her Own Way*

In this onetime barn . . . Mrs. Woodruff now has roasting ovens, boiling pans, drying strainers, 30 employees sorting and packing her popular peanuts and such.

THIS story is written for the thousands of men and women who are waiting for the big chance to appear and doff its cap. It is the story of a woman who built her fortune on the lowly peanut.

Fifteen years ago, Viola V. Woodruff of Flushing, Long Island, a suburb of New York city, was dealt a vicious blow by the hand of Fate. Her husband, a builder, was killed in a railroad accident, and before the end of the week her father died, leaving Mrs. Woodruff and her mother without means of support.

The family home was a beautiful old-fashioned house situated on the corner of a wide boulevard, and at the back of the house, the stable, which was in keeping with the home, housed the family steed and the vehicles which the motor age was just beginning to shove into the background.

The first thought of most women left in such a predicament would be to sell the home and take smaller quarters. But it was a comfortable home, there were no incumbrances, and neither Mrs. Woodruff nor her mother wanted to part with it.

An income was necessary, if only a small one, in order to meet living expenses, and Mrs. Woodruff being a woman of resource, set about finding a means to this end.

Being without commercial training, she was unfitted for business as it is conducted in an organized office, and had she been able to take a stenographic position, there was still the question of caring for and managing a large house, which was beyond the strength of her elderly mother.

MRS. WOODRUFF was ambitious, but not avaricious. She was also a good manager; she knew she could get by if she were able to bring in as little as $15 each week, but there was the question of what to do to raise this simple sum.

At last an idea presented itself. She was invited to a luncheon and the hostess included in the menu salted peanuts that she had made herself. Mrs. Woodruff learned the recipe for this delicacy, and the following day she laid the foundation for what is today a $200,000-a-year business.

On her kitchen stove she prepared 10 pounds of salted gubbers, made them into two packages and disposed of them at a drug store and a country club.

The consumers liked this new confection and called for more. Mrs. Woodruff was able to add more than $15 weekly to the family exchequer, and the demand grew to such proportions that the kitchen stove was no longer adequate for her peanut fixing. She moved to the spacious cellar, fitted up a light corner and increased production.

It then became necessary to have a helper, and a friend, Mrs. Anna M. DuPont, who today assumes the role of office manager, was called in to take care of the steadily growing business.

When the demand for Mrs. Woodruff's particular brand of salted peanuts became more insistent, and the cellar was no longer large enough to house the equipment, Dobbin was dismissed—the carriages having previously been disposed of, and the barn renovated to accommodate the Nut Kitchen, whose fame had spread all over Long Island and into certain sections of Manhattan Island.

MOVING into larger quarters necessitated a manager for the new kitchen, the business offices being confined to what had been the back parlor of the stately old mansion, and requiring the presence of Mrs. Woodruff. So another name was added to the payroll, Mrs. Anna Walther, and she is still in charge of the kitchen.

The interior of Mrs. Woodruff's nut factory . . . has counters for a flourishing retail trade, displays of novelties of interest to buyers of her wares.

By this time, other nuts had been added to the peanut foundation. Brazil nuts, almonds, pecans and, as the business steadily grew, English walnuts appeared; also cashews, filberts, pignolias and pistachios.

Wholesale orders were arriving daily, and the kitchen flourished, despite the fact that older and more experienced heads, men who had dabbled in importing nuts, warned Mrs. Woodruff that she was treading on thin ice, and that dealing in nuts in quantities had been the downfall of many an ambitious and enterprising person.

Nothing daunted, Mrs. Woodruff continued to buy nuts, and the cellar that housed the first growth of the business, is now given over to bins where tons of Brazil nuts are stored, and the peanuts are now purchased by the carload!

In the barn that is now the permanent home of Mrs. Woodruff's venture, there are ovens for roasting, pans for boiling the nuts in oil, strainers for drying, so the excess oil runs off, leaving the product dry and palatable, and 30 women sorting and packing for shipment.

Even the one-time hayloft of the renovated barn has its workers. Charles Johnson, a sightless boy, sits all day before a nut cracker. His fingers are so sensitive that he can tell by the feel of a nut whether it is good or bad, and his hand is so practiced that he puts just the right amount of pressure on the lever to break the shell without injuring the meat.

On the first floor, where the nuts are hand-picked and packed, a counter caters to the demand of the retail trade.

Viola V. Woodruff . . . stirred 10 pounds of peanuts on her kitchen stove, saw her venture wax into a $200,000-a-year business.

During the days just before last Christmas automobile customers passed $1200 a day over the shining glass cases.

Nor is the business confined to salted nuts. Candied nut meats have been added, and these, too, are made on the premises. Along the walls there is an interesting display of novelties—table decorations, bon voyage packages, gifts for bridge prizes in china and glass that may be filled with nuts if the purchaser so desires.

Ask Mrs. Woodruff the secret of her success and she replies, "Patience. It hasn't all been done in a day, and my associates and I have had to experiment, many times at the expense of failure, but we always found a way out in the end."

"We have but one object in the business," Mrs. Woodruff says earnestly, "and that is to give the public the best that money can buy. We have more competition now than we had when we started, but by keeping our standard high, our customers always come back. We may lose them for a time—that happens in every business; but we have always had the satisfaction of seeing them return."

"OUR policy is not how much we can get, but how much we can give. When I started, I would have been satisfied with a $15-a-week profit for the rest of my life. And I hope I never lose sight of the fact that profit isn't everything. It means much to all of us to feel that we are giving value received, and that the best is none too good."

"The men and women in my employ have been with me for years. Some of them started during the days when we were operating in the cellar. Since we have graduated to the barn we have had to enlarge that space, but we all feel that we prefer to build additions and remain on the site of our success than to move to larger quarters. That, I think, speaks for the loyalty and co-operation of my co-workers."

Perhaps the secret of the success of Mrs. Woodruff's enterprise can be summed up in these few words—Despite not the lowly. A peanut was responsible, just a humble peanut, usually associated with the zoo and the circus. What could one expect from a peanut?

Backed by tireless energy, and friendly interest, a desire to give the best, and loyal support from co-workers, one clever woman has used it to found an industry that has brought her prominence among confection makers and gratifying financial success.

GREAT DEMAND REPORTED FOR TEXAS ROAD MAPS

The demand for Texas Road Maps has broken a record this year, according to O. H. Carlisle, Asst. Dist. Sales Manager of the Gulf Refining Company's Texas District.

When the Gulf Company inaugurated the free distribution of Texas number of motor tourists was comparatively small. During the past few years, however, highways in Texas have been greatly improved and hun-

Germany "Comes Back" on Sea and in the Air

The great laboratories and industrial plants that made Germany the wonder of the world in the days before the great war are functioning again, with the result that the Germans are now bidding for the lead in world transportation. They have built the largest dirigible in the world, the trans-Atlantic Graf Zeppelin; the largest airplane in the world, the 100-passenger Dornier seaplane, equipped with twelve 500-horsepower motors; the largest and fastest ocean liner in the world, the Bremen, which recently shattered all trans-Atlantic steamship records by crossing in just a little more than four and a half days. dreds of thousands of motorists travel over them annually. In addition to the large number of commercial travelers, a vast number of motorists spend their vacations in their automobiles, enjoying the great variety of scenery afforded by the big state.

Texas has much to offer tourists and Mr. Carlisle states that the Gulf Company is sparing no expense in its effort to furnish road maps that are complete, accurate, convenient, and of real service to motorists.

Marketing Group May Handle Funds of Farm Board

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 5. (P) - The Farmers Marketing Association of America, Inc., which has the bulk of its membership and strength in Texas, may be designated as one of the agencies that will handle funds of the Federal Farm Board to be distributed in Texas for the stabilization and orderly marketing of cotton and other crops, it was brought out at the annual meeting of the association here today.

M. H. Wolf, prominent cotton man of Dallas, told of his trip last week to Baton Rouge where he attended a number of meetings of the Federal Farm Board and discussed the agricultural situation with individual members of that body.

It has been clearly brought out that the Federal agricultural relief fund will not be distributed to individuals but through reputable and successful co-operative agencies, Wolf said.

"Records," he added, "show that about eight per cent of the cotton farmers of the south belong to co-operative marketing associations, leaving 92 per cent out of reach of the board."

Two former Lieutenant Governors of Texas, Lynch P. Davidson of Houston and T. W. (Whit) Davidson of Dallas, were among the other speakers.

New York, Aug. 3. (P) - The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 3 to 5 points on buying promoted by reports of continued heavy rain in the southwest, but the demand was limited and prices soon weakened under realizing or liquidation.

October contracts sold off from 19.04 to 18.88 and March from 19.45 to 19.32 by the end of the first hour, making net declines of about 6 to 10 points.

A private report was published showing the condition of the crop at 70.0 per cent and the indicated yield at 15,375,000 bales, which was very closely in line with the average of the private reports published last week.

Owing to the holiday there were no cables from Liverpool where the market will reopen for business tomorrow.

The market eased off to 18.82 for October and 19.26 for March later in the morning or about 14 to 15 points net lower. There was enough buying at these figures to absorb the immediate offerings and cause rallies of a few points.

At midday trading was quiet, with the active months showing net declines of 6 to 12 points.

Two more private crop reports were issued, one of them making the condition 69.5 and the indicated yield 15,442,000 while the other placed the condition at 69.4 and the indicated yield at 15,390,000 bales.

New Orleans, Aug. 5. (P) - Cotton prices opened higher today after a moderate demand stimulated by continued dry weather in the belt. First trades showed advances of 7 to 9 points and in the absence of Liverpool cables, that market remaining closed in continuation of the "bank clerks' holiday," prices here continued steady for a time after the start. Later, however, further liquidation in advance of the Government report entered the market and the early gain was soon lost. October sold down to 18.78, December 18.98 and January 19.02, or 11 to 13 points down from the highs and 4 to 5 points below Saturday's close.

Opening 1 1/4 to 3c lower, wheat afterward showed a decided further drop. Corn and oats were also weak, with corn starting 5-8 to 1 1/2c off and subsequently continuing to fall. Provisions held steady.

Wheat closed nervous 2 3/8 to 3 3/4c under Saturday's finish. Corn closed 1 3/8c to 1 7/8c down, oats 5-8 to 1 1/2 to 1 5/8c off, and provision unchanged to a decline of 2c.
